

CBMJ Lands Renowned Broadcaster Brannon Howse to Spearhead PATRIOT.TV's Revolutionary New Broadcast Network as its President and COO

Venice, FL. - Conservative Broadcast Media & Journalism (CBMJ) is pleased to announce that Brannon Howse is now leading its revolutionary broadcast platform "PATRIOT.TV" and will oversee its development as President and Chief Operating Officer (COO) of PATRIOT.TV.

"In a career spanning over three decades, Brannon Howse has distinguished himself as a leading voice in public broadcasting, with a legacy marked by groundbreaking achievements and unwavering commitment to informing and engaging audiences across the nation. He has had an immediate impact and is expected to catapult PATRIOT.TV as a conservative media powerhouse," stated Mark Schaftlein CBMJ CEO.

When asked about why he accepted this new challenge, Brannon responded: "It was my longstanding respect and admiration for General Flynn (who recently joined CBMJ's Board of Directors) that compelled me to meet with him and his team to hear their plans for this new broadcast platform. After meeting with General Flynn's team in my home for ten hours, I could not imagine a better team of people with a better set of gifts that would complement each other more in achieving the objective of building what will be the most informative, trusted, truth based, dependable and successful broadcast news network to date in America or the world. Working on this team built by General Flynn to serve our beloved country and its patriots at this crucial time in the history of our American republic is an honor of a lifetime."

"Brannon will have the opportunity to take his 31 years of public broadcasting experience and knowledge and apply it to building a highly informative, compelling, technologically advanced, and financially successful television and radio news network that is owned by publicly traded CBMJ allowing anyone to participate in its success" remarked CBMJ director Floyd Brown.

Brannon and MyPillow CEO Mike Lindell collaborated and on April 19, 2021, Lindell-TV was launched from Brannon's mid-south studios and control room. As the co-founder of Lindell-TV, lead anchor and Senior Executive Producer, Brannon oversaw the development of his second successful broadcast network that enjoys millions of viewers each month to this day. With the blessing and good wishes of Mike Lindell, Brannon Howse is departing Lindell-TV to focus on PATRIOT.TV with the goal of building his third successful broadcast company.
